

RECONCILIATION

As a part of our school RAP (Reconciliation action plan– developed in 2020) one of our actions is to celebrate National Reconciliation Week by engaging in a range of activities across the school. Classes helped create lettering for our front office display, watched video clips to show how we reflect on our shared histories, cultures and achievements and explored how each of us can join the national reconciliation journey. Students discussed the meaning of reconciliation and create a Edwordle to display.

The original artwork , Journey of Success was created by Jordan Lovegrove from the Ngarrindjeri

Our semester 1 SRC members decorated Blue swimmer crabs, which symbolises the important food source collected in Port Broughton by Narrunga people. The 8 crabs decorated represent each class. They will form a whole school display to be located outside the art room. The design of the blue swimmer crab was developed by Ms Morrison and Mr Brook cut them out on the laser cutter.

Our school was also presented with 'The Journey to Success' aboriginal artwork symbolising the intent of the Aboriginal Strategy & reconciliation of the department.

Australia celebrates National Reconciliation Week, between 27 May and 3 June every year. The week marks two significant milestones:

27 May - The anniversary of the 1967 referendum. This gave the Commonwealth the power to make laws for Aboriginal people and for Aboriginal people to be recognised in the national census.

3 June – Mabo decision. The High Court of Australia decided that terra nullius should not have been applied to Australia. The decision recognised that Aboriginal and Torres Strait Islander peoples have rights to the land. The case was led by Torres Strait Islander man, the late Eddie (Koiki) Mabo.

National Reconciliation Week is an opportunity to celebrate the unique culture and history of Aboriginal people. Reconciliation Australia's theme for 2021, More than a word. Reconciliation takes action, urges the reconciliation movement towards braver and more impactful action.

Tuesday week 8 is a student free day. Staff will participate in professional learning focussed on our site improvement plan

Monday week 9 is the start of the second semester. There will be minimal to no impact on R-6 students. Students in years 7-12 may start new subjects. As in previous years, we are very fortunate to offer a wide range of subjects such as, agriculture, automotive, creative arts, metal/wood tech, food tech, sport and recreation, to name just a few.

Good luck to our students currently participating in SAPSASA netball and football.

7/8 HASS Business Enterprise

The Department for Education has set out numerous strategies in an improvement plan designed to build a world-class education system. One of those strategies is developing a range of contemporary curriculum offerings. This term in HASS, Year 7/8 students have been rigorously putting one such unit through some real-world testing, by undertaking a Business and Enterprise unit of work, written by curriculum experts from across South Australia.

During this unit students were introduced to the basic skills and concepts which govern the successful management of small businesses and individual enterprises.

The unit was hugely successful with student teams executing their own business idea. They were able to demonstrate an understanding of business operations, showcased financial and technological skills, participated in planning, developing, and controlling business activities and discuss the decisions they made through the language of business practices.

7/8 HASS Business Enterprise

Business Enterprise Reflection Task

"In HASS we have learnt what it means to think like an entrepreneur.

We started a business selling cookies at lunchtime. Our budget was $26 and our income was $56 so our profit was $28.50, or 109%.

Our factors of production included ingredients, equipment advertising fliers, and the time taken to source the ingredients.

We could have improved the efficiency of our business by finding a bigger workspace which would have sped up production and let us make more cookies."

What have the 3/4 class been doing?

Students drew sulphur crested cockatoos using a paint wash and dot painting techniques

In History, we read the children's book 'The First Fleet' by Alan Bourdman. Students illustrated part of the story. We learnt about the conditions and hardships faced by the men, women and children transported to Australia. Did you know? John Hudson a 9 year old boy was arrested for burglary. The penalty for burglary was death and because of his age his sentence was reduced to 7 years transportation.

The Marvellous Ears by Chloe

Back in the cave, the Big Friendly Giant sat Sophie down once again on the enormous table. "Is you quite snugly there in your nightie?" he asked. "You isn't fridgy cold?"

"I'm fine," Sophie said. The BFG went to the kitchen and started chopping up some snozcumbers. "Don't eat me" she cried. "I would never do that" he said. "Me eats snozcumbers but the rest eat human beans like you, butcher boy and meat chopper are going out now".

The BFG put Sophie to bed and he was sitting by the fire making snozjuice. He went to bed. Now his bed was quite unusual. It was a pirate ship. "zzzzzzzzzzzzzzzz" snored the giant, Sophie woke up. "you all goodjy" he asked. "yes, do you need help with your english" she asked. Before he could answer "tingngngngng tingngngng". "what's that" Sophie asked "Wes gotz no timeo to losey, quick come with mes" BFG whispered.

All there was, was a waterfall, the giant pulled a lever and "wooooooosh" it disappeared. They went inside, the waterfall went back. "What are inside the jars?" Sophie exclaimed. "Dreams, every night mez go out fastly to tree and catch dreams" answered BFG "Hide in here" the BFG said putting her in the trunk of the tree.

The Marvellous Ears - Students had to complete the story using BFG language.
